Expelling Poison - a Dream

I had a dream yesterday which I feel carries a prophetic message for the Church. In the dream my son had taken ant poison called Blue Death and I knew the only antidote was for him to consume liters of milk. I continued feeding it to him until he vomited up all the poison. When I asked him how much poison he had swallowed, he replied, "a whole teaspoon" and I rebuked him saying that a small pinch was a safe dose. As I said this, a verse came to mind:

Pro 25:16 Have you found honey? Eat only as much as is enough for you, lest you be filled with it and vomit it.

Interpretation

My son represents the sons of God who have partaken of a large dose of 'blue death'. The word 'blue' refers to revelation, yet it is joined with darkness and the input of the enemy, referred to as 'death'. In other words, the revelation received contains mixture - its color denotes heaven but it kills. The only antidote is the pure milk of the Word of God, until the Body expels the poison from its depths. My comment to him about a safe dose ties up with the verse given, in that there is a warning about taking in too much honey (revelation) as the result will be vomiting.

I sense that this dream is a warning to the Body of Christ concerning the present obsession with receiving revelation. Every day there seems to be a new word from the Lord. Many are spending more time surfing the internet to find the latest 'prophetic word' for the day than they are spending time in the Word themselves. The milk of the Word is being put aside for the more 'exciting' so-called revelations of various prominent recognized prophetic voices. According to the dream, the revelation being handed out is not always pure but has been infiltrated by various demonic voices and suggestions, with the purpose of bringing death to the sons of God.

This poison was to kill ants - which is a reference to the following verses in Proverbs:

Pro 6:6 Go to the ant, sluggard; consider her ways and be wise; who, having no guide, overseer, or ruler, provides her food in the summer and gathers her food in the harvest. How long will you sleep, O sluggard? When will you arise out of your sleep?

The ant represents awareness of God's seasons and understanding of the times which brings a resulting diligence in preparation. The ant searches out its own food and stores up for the winter ahead. Her storehouse is full, just like the wise virgins' lamps! This poisonous mixed revelation is resulting in a spirit of slumber affecting the sons of God, so they are unprepared for what lies ahead. They are so busy getting distracted and excited by the grandiose revelation being put out daily that they are consuming large amounts of it and succumbing to spiritual stupor. Their own storehouses are practically empty.

Pro 10:5 He who gathers in summer is a wise son; but he who sleeps in harvest is a son who causes shame.

God is warning his sons to be wise at this time. Take in the pure milk of the Word until it exposes and expels the tainted revelation from your mind and heart. God's Word is designed to protect you from deception, if you know what is in it!

Pro 6:23 For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life; to keep you from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman. Do not lust after her beauty in your heart; nor let her take you with her eyelids. For by means of a harlot a man comes to a piece of bread;

The strange woman is a seductive spirit that would lure you from the narrow way with her flattery and beauty. Beware of so-called prophetic words or beautiful revelations that are full only of soothing promises for your comfort and ease and material gain. If you continue to swallow their syrupy contents, you will be reduced to spiritual poverty. God disciplines those He loves according to Hebrews 12. The reading of His Word will bring conviction and re-alignment in your life.

2Ti 3:16 All Scripture is God-breathed, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be perfected, thoroughly furnished to every good work.

Be warned about words which do nothing but stroke your ego and feed your flesh. They are unlikely to be from the Tree of Life. Because of the Body of Christ's present preoccupation with the prophetic, the enemy has had an open door (or ear) to introduce doctrines of demons into the fabric of our belief structures. A large percentage of the Church is asleep and dreaming delightful dreams fueled by the spirit of slumber. We do not see and understand the signs of the times and sense the urgency of the hour.

The morning before Rosh Hashanah the Lord woke me up with the words, " I'm getting ready to shout!" as I have pondered the significance of the Lord shouting, I realized that He would need to shout if people have turned a deaf ear to His whispers. Perhaps it is because they are tuned in to other more flattering voices... What the outplaying of this 'shout' will look like, I cannot say. I have only a sense that the attention of the whole world will be alerted by this 'shout', that whatever it is will significantly alter the way we live our lives from that point on. I believe it will place all of the earth in the valley of decision spoken of in Joel 3. Even here a shout of the Lord is spoken of:

*Joe 3:14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining. The LORD also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel. So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more.

I recall too these verses in Matthew:

*Mat 25:5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom comes! Go out to meet him.

Some were prepared in that day and others weren't. Wisdom was separated from foolishness at that moment. The shout was at midnight when it was very dark and the command was to go out to meet Him. Beloved, we must remember that the Church's finest hour will be against the backdrop of great darkness in the earth. Even the two days of Rosh Hashanah were filled by almost continuous earthquakes in the Sumatra region in the east, floods in Africa from west to east and tornados in the western part of the globe. Can we not even hear the loudness of that 'trumpet call'? We must be ready to go out to meet the Bridegroom with lamps full of oil.

Rom 13:11 This also, knowing the time, that it is already time to awake out of sleep; for now our salvation is nearer than when we believed.

We must throw off this spirit of slumber so that we can take our places as God determines in the days when the earth is in turmoil. His sons must be safe harbors in the storms that are just ahead. We must possess a peace that is not of this world as we reach out to others. Our anchor will only hold firm if we are anchored on the Rock of the Word, Jesus Christ. Flimsy flattering prophetic utterances will be found useless for support at that time.

Beloved, if we had recognized it to be poison, we would not have swallowed it. Would a son of God be overcome by a harlot unless seduced and his passions inflamed by carefully chosen words of flattery? I believe the Spirit of the Lord is sounding a warning that time is of the essence. We are in the ten days of Awe before Yom Kippur on Saturday. These are days designed for repentance and realignment. Let us repent of being undiscerning and absorbing mixed seed and ask the Holy Spirit to apply the milk of the Word to every area where the poison is hiding in our belief systems. Let us pray according to psalm 19 over ourselves:

Psa 19:7 The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb. Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward. Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

This has both personal and corporate application. Already in the last weeks, I have begun to see warnings concerning the prophets of Balaam etc beginning to go out globally to the Body of Christ. In whatever measure we have absorbed their teachings, we need our eyes to become open. Until the Body of Christ expels the poison of demonic doctrine from it's' innards, it will be found sleeping in the time of harvest. Then there remains only a rude awakening when the Lord SHOUTS.
