

Preparation of the Silver vessels - part 3

As I did the cleaning of all the silver objects in my household a little while ago, the Lord also began to speak to me concerning marriages which He was working intensely with, in preparation for a sending out on specific missions. He did this using the silver wedding anniversary tray that had belonged to my grandparents on my other's side.

Just to refresh your memory, I had mentioned that the tray is an instrument of service, upon which refreshment and nourishment is served and although we are more used to thinking of a vessel as an object that holds liquid, a silver tray is also a vessel.

My tray upholds and carries two other silver vessels, which hold within them that which the Father desires to be served to the hungry and thirsty waiting ones. The Holy Spirit accentuated that the tray and the two silver bowls represented

3-in-1 marriages made in Heaven, with the two bowls representing the husband and the wife and the tray the union of their marriage. All three silver vessels have engraving on them and the Lord has written or engraved plans for each of the three parts of this trinity of silver vessels. They are three but when put together, they are one in Heaven's purpose and plan.

In the long dark season these marriages have been through, much attack has come from every quarter, so much so that it has become difficult to discern when looking from the outside, that God even has any purpose for the marriage and the enemy has been hard at work trying to persuade the couple that they can serve the Lord better on their own, having ditched the vehicle of their marriage. Many justifying demonic arguments supporting the severing of the marriage covenant have been bombarding both the husband and the wife and even to the casual observer during the season of darkness, it has seemed that no good can possibly come from this union. The silver bowls are battered and scratched and tarnished and feel ashamed at their inability to provide a testimony to the unsaved world concerning Christian marriage. To these ones, the Lord wants to say that He was present as a witness of your marriage vows and He did indeed bring you together; that it is time to stop listening to the voice of the accuser concerning your testimony in the earth because, in this morning watch, the Father has appointed a time of being bathed in the wine of His love and this will lift and remove the dark tarnish obscuring the engraving on each bowl and indeed on the silver tray of the marriage covenant itself. Father God has a purpose for your union but He has allowed a severe time of trial and testing and a veil to be upon this 3-in-1 union; in order to keep your purpose hidden for the very time and season you are now entering into. These hidden weapons are some of His best-kept secrets, awaiting the moment of sending forth to cause great damage to the enemy territory and reap a harvest for the Kingdom of God.

I see a great many couples in the darkness of the beginning of this morning watch and they are hearing from the Spirit the prompting to renew their covenant marriage vows. This will seem laughable to the world considering the marriage's current battered condition and the lateness of the hour, but as they take a hold of the instruction by faith and come full circle to obediently renew those vows before the witnesses in Heaven, it will trigger the supply of barrels of heavenly wine needed for each marriage to be made completely new. Faith is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen and the gift of faith will be supplied to supply light to walk by, in whatever path the Spirit directs. Some marriages will be done in certain locations; some will be attended only by two witnesses in great simplicity; and yet others will involve the Lord dealing individually with each marriage partner and asking for their 'yes' to stay in this marriage, before joining hands again - but all will be orchestrated by the Heavenly Wedding Planner.

The de-tarnishing of the 3-in-1 apostolic marriages will be done away from curious eyes and will be a hidden work of the heart and there will be a holy hush and an atmosphere like unto when Moses encountered the burning bush and was told to remove his sandals for the place where he was standing was holy ground (Exod 3:4). Similarly when Joshua encountered the prince of the Lord's host after he entered the Promised Land, his sandals had to be removed (Josh 5:13). Sandals represent inheritance; in this case they depict spiritual inheritance and in order to enter fully into the Lord's purposes for the marriage covenant, each partner will need to be willing to lay aside their own understanding of their personal spiritual inheritance and right (their sandals). Remember the messenger told Joshua that He was there on Heaven's business and was not taking sides. In other words, it's not about 'I' but about 'U', Lord. At this point, as each partner lays down their rights and selfish agendas and the need for reward or recognition, the battle scars of the trial will begin to be lifted and the pain of the memories of the old chapter removed. This removing of the sandals is vital in order for the Lord to be able to reveal afresh the engraving upon the 'tray' of the marriage covenant and God's blueprint for the next chapter. Of course, once the Father has revealed what He desires you to do as a couple, then you can put your own 'sandals' back on. Nothing is lost, only removed temporarily in order to institute Heaven's order of priority and deal with the idol of 'self'.

Sorrow may have endured for a night, but joy will come in the morning as you receive revelation of each partner's part in the plan God has for you as a couple and light will also be given concerning the purpose of the marriage covenant itself in Heaven's endtime war strategy. What God has joined together no man or demon has been able to put asunder and the hallmark of real silver which God Himself stamped upon your marriage the day you made your vows, will once again become visible, firstly to the couple before the eyes of others gaze upon this work of the Spirit. They have been married in body and in soul, but now it is the season for the threefold things and marriages of the spirit will be brought forth. Great understanding will be released concerning the reason for the winding path your relationship has travelled and the meticulous workmanship of the hand of God in making a marriage that is a vessel for noble purposes. Many have spoken over your union the words of death and destruction but Heaven's word over you has been the breath of Resurrection Life. The voice of the accuser will be silenced over these marriages, as a voice from the Throne rebukes him, just as when Joshua stood before the throne in filthy garments in the Book of Zechariah. New rich garments and turbans will be brought for these marriage partners. I see a swift work and flying scrolls being hand-delivered by heavenly messengers in the dim light of this morning watch. They carry details of assignments being handed out to these polished, shining 3-in-1 silver vessels. All will be done quietly without fanfare much like the time when Ruth lay at Boaz' feet and he spread his garment over her, while others slept all around. Like Boaz filled Ruth's mantle with six measures of barley in the pre-dawn light, so too, these marriages will receive heavenly downloads secretly, that will be used to feed others once the day has dawned. These holy unions are the Morning Star Marriage Ministries, released from the womb of the morning as these couples offer themselves willingly for Heaven's purposes (psalm 110AMP). I see the Spirit scattering them like dew all over the earth, to bring light and life, refreshing, healing and deliverance where darkness reigns. Their assignments will not be where stages and spotlights and the accolades of men are given, but where the eye of the Father knows the greatest need is.

As His liquid love bathes away all the layers of darkness the enemy has used to obscure each vessel's beauty and plan, your eyes will be opened once again to see the person you fell in love with and married and their great worth in God's sight. The love of God will be shed abroad in your hearts for one another's unique strengths and gifting. Each bowl on my tray carries different contents. One holds broken windshield glass from an automobile accident, symbolising the trauma and trials the couple has gone through. It also holds a dead butterfly, picturing the dying to self of each vessel. Thirdly, there is a blue feather and a grey feather touching, symbolising the joining of our understanding with heaven's revelation and truth that is given to the silver vessel. It explains the dark night of trial and all the enemy's devices being turned for good, out of the grey ashes of the refining fire. The other silver vessel contains two rose quartz hearts which depict the husband and wife as living stones cut and polished by the Master's hand. There is also an uncut piece of rose quartz which shows the beginning of the refining process and two watch faces, an antique and a modern one. This vessel contains an understanding of the times and the ways of God in dealing with His jewels from the beginning to the end - the working of the God who completes the good work begun in His saints.

The truth imparted by these marriages will break many strongholds and lies the enemy has tortured God's people with. The morning star is not only the final star in the heavens heralding the coming of the sun over the horizon, but also a spiked metal ball on a chain, used to inflict great damage on an opponent. These 3-in-1 covenants will be a weapon in the hand of the Lord, crushing the works of the enemy and delivering many held captive by his insidious devices. A hallmark of these marriages will be the outpouring of great joy and a heavy tangible presence of the Bridegroom Himself as they dispense Heaven's wisdom. I see them travelling, in simplicity, without the baggage of their past, on a path lit by the light of the Living Word. They carry the rod of Heaven's authority and a basket full of riches of the mind of Christ for all who cross their path. They gaze straight ahead with fixed purpose and are not distracted by the sideshows of religion or the lures of the praises of men. They walk and live for an audience of One, seeking His pleasure alone.

They are the vessels of oil and wine poured into the wounds of the man, lying beaten and dying on Jericho's road. The great price they have paid to remain faithful to the Lord will cover the cost of a stay at the inn of Heaven's love, until healing and strength returns. They are living memorials to show the Lord is upright and faithful to His Promises (Psalm 92:15) and their marriage is a testimony to the fact that many waters cannot quench love for God's love is as strong as death and has overcome it (Songs 8:6,7)

A particular hallmark of these Morning Star Marriage ministers will be the anointing to reconcile and return others to their original purposes in Christ; with a corresponding release of understanding and revelation necessary to carry out Heaven's orders. They are vessels of grace and truth; portable conduits of the river of Life which flows from the throne of God. Everywhere the river goes, everything lives (Ezekiel 47:9) and these 3-in-1 silver vessels of honour follow the Lamb wherever He goes.

I will share more on these weapons released from the womb of the morning and apostolic partnerships next time I send out a post. May the Lord bless you and increase your understanding of His purposes for you in this season.
